ST. LOUIS:

TUESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 30, 1845.

The Pilgrim Anniversary.

According to previous announcement, a large congregation of ladies and gentlemen assembled in the Second Presbyterian Church, on Monday afternoon, to celebrate the two hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims on Plymouth Rock. There is the fitness of the kind within such a time and a commemoration as well as its seasonableness, especially when the feelings of that portion of our community who had come from New England. They were all in unison, and with a unanimity and zeal, which spoke well for their love of their native land.

The members of the Church of second Church-ed by Mr. Adams, sang the following chorus:

Where is the blood of the martyr slain,
Where is the blood of the martyr slain,
Watered the tree which is growing still,
Watered the tree which is growing still,
Where is the blood of the martyr slain,
Watered the tree which is growing still.

A prayer was offered up by the Rev. Mr. Brigham, in substance, as follows:

Almighty God, we have assembled to praise Thee for the goodness and mercies of Thy word. Thou hast ever been the God of Thy people, and Thou hast ever been their God. Thou hast been with them in their wanderings and sufferings. Thou hast been with them in their prosperity. Thou hast been with them in their adversity. Thou hast been with them in their joys. Thou hast been with them in their sorrows. Thou hast been with them in their hopes. Thou hast been with them in their fears. Thou hast been with them in their doubts. Thou hast been with them in their faith. Thou hast been with them in their love. Thou hast been with them in their hate. Thou hast been with them in their life. Thou hast been with them in their death. Thou hast been with them in their resurrection. Thou hast been with them in their ascension. Thou hast been with them in their glorification. Thou hast been with them in their eternity. Thou hast been with them in their infinity. Thou hast been with them in their omnipotence. Thou hast been with them in their omniscience. Thou hast been with them in their omnipresence. Thou hast been with them in their immutability

SAINT LOUIS:

THURSDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 22

Eastern News—The Senate Bank—We learn by the last boat on the Terre Haute route how an enterprising reporter is to report the proceedings of the Senate during the Extra Session. The plan is to have a reporter stationed at Terre Haute, who will receive the proceedings by telegraph, and the following morning will publish them in the Intelligencer. Daily communications will be published on board of the Mail Steamboat in Baltimore, and no doubt every other expedient will be adopted to insure completeness in performing the task, save that the communication which is intended to embrace the proceedings of the Senate will be received by the mail by the way of Louisville, and not by telegraph. The latter mode would be preferable, but the former is considered sufficiently expeditious for all practical purposes. It will require some little additional labor, but that, we presume, the Whigs of Western will freely give, in order to ensure themselves the earliest intelligence of their actions.

It is stated on a letter to the editor of the Courier, from Mr. Cooper, of Pennsylvania, that Postmaster General has contracted upon oath, in accordance with the provisions of the law, with the Terre Haute and St. Louis, daily, under the present mileage. An advertisement for proposals will soon be published, covering the whole western mail service, and the new contracts, it is said, will go into effect on the first of July next. This is all very proper, although we do not see why the Postmaster General has not long since ordered to any increase of mail facilities. The people of the West have been complaining long enough. But we are satisfied it, and the people generally, must agree, that those who represent us in Congress should demand, a daily mail upon the route. It can be arranged at less expense to make less than the present contractors which secure us the most speedy, certain and regularly arrangements to our people. You should call the attention of the Post Office to the disadvantages of a daily mail to Louisville and Vincennes, and to the inconvenience which both of them, and to the other towns on the Ohio river, and with the Southern mail, experience from the failure to arrive at the connections of the present daily line. The Postmaster General will, we hope, at once adopt establishing both routes daily, and we hope to see the executive authorities of Indiana on the Terre Haute line, have the same secured.

Preparations for War.—A Washington correspondent of the New York Herald, and the best informed in that city on such matters, says the following statement was authorized and given at their solicitude:

The revolutionary attempted in Texas, in Greece, in Canada revolutions, render the necessity of a permanent Military and Naval force in the United States apparent. Why will England then, with her preparations should be made in defence of Belgium in Europe? The correspondent of the Herald, Ignoring the subject under consideration, Finding, by experience, that to insist on the appointment of Gen. Cushman, as heretofore practiced, would be injurious to the Senate, I propose, with the consent of the Senate, to nominate

SUNDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 26, 1841.

TWENTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

In the Senate, on the 20th, some business, not of a very important character, passed the committee of the whole, and the Senate, having taken up the resolution of Mr. Clay, authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to issue Treasury notes, &c., Mr. Clay addressed the Senate in support of the resolution, and was followed by Mr. Buchanan, who opposed it. Mr. Clay replied, and Mr. Buchanan rejoined, when the resolution was laid over.

On the 21st, Mr. Allen, Chairman of the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, reported a bill to establish a post-route between Portland and Montreal, which was read and passed to the second reading.

Mr. Merrick presented the petition of Samuel Gardner, praying that the Secretary of the Treasury may be directed to pay him the amount of certain duties paid by him on a quantity of iron imported in the ship Ann Maria, which was wrecked on the coast of Florida, and the cargo sold by the Marshal of the United States for the district of Florida, and the duties collected by the Collector of the port of St. Augustine. Mr. M. said that the petitioner was a citizen of Florida, and had been a merchant there for many years. He had imported the iron in question, and had paid the duties on it, but the vessel was wrecked on the coast of Florida, and the iron was sold by the Marshal. The petitioner had applied to the Secretary of the Treasury for the refunding of the duties, but the Secretary had refused to grant the application, on the ground that he had no authority to refund duties in such a case. Mr. M. said that the petitioner was a poor man, and had been ruined by the loss of the iron. He thought that the Secretary had the power to refund the duties, and he hoped that the petition would be referred to the Committee on Finance, with instructions to report a bill for the relief of the petitioner.

Mr. Clay, of Kentucky, said that he was not prepared to say that the Secretary had the power to refund the duties in question, but he thought that the petitioner was entitled to relief, and he hoped that the petition would be referred to the Committee on Finance, with instructions to report a bill for the relief of the petitioner.

Mr. Merrick said that he was not prepared to say that the Secretary had the power to refund the duties in question, but he thought that the petitioner was entitled to relief

Died in Jail—The Columbia (Boone county) Statesman, of the 8th, says: On Sunday evening last, Mr. Dorris, the Sheriff, of Cherokee county, Texas, arrived in this place, and on Monday morning, under Habeas, was ordered here recently convicted in two years confinement in the State penitentiary, for horse stealing, by the Cherokee county Court. After learning he'd taken a lengthy supper he was taken to the jail and in the place, he died in prison until morning. During the night, he died, and, according to the verdict of the Inquest, of an apoplectic fit. Dorris was about forty-five years of age, and has left a family, a wife and eight children.

Arrest of Turrill.—Albert G. Turrill, who is charged with forging Wells's Bankers' Bonds, is about 30 years of age, and although he has been for years a resident of New York, he was born and has been married in Connecticut. He is a son of Rev. Samuel Turrill, formerly rector of St. Peter's church in New Orleans, and now of Mrs. Dennis. Chief Hays promptly started for the Bahama Islands, where they first knew an eight, when, on the 22nd inst., he found him in the act of leaving the city in a shipper on the steamer and under the name of Mr. Wm. Dennis. He afterwards, however, admitted his identity, and that he had been for many years back he had been a resident of Nassau. He was also recognized by several citizens who knew him from his infancy, and was committed to prison. He owns the property of the Governor of Massachusetts. While coming up the river, he made several confidential statements to his party confined. The Penguins of the 5th, says:

Turrill has since his arrest in this city made a full confession of his crimes, and has given up all the property he possessed, or which could be traced to him. He is in his cell in the Tombs, and will be kept there until the Grand Jury meets, when he will be indicted, and will undoubtedly be tried at once, as the case is a very plain one. He will be defended by Mr. Graham, who has been retained.

The Bridgeport Fire.—The property destroyed or rendered worthless is over $100,000 more than we estimate in the amount of $40,000, as stated in the N. Y. Tribune on the 20th inst. The following is Coulter's loss $25,000, Howard $10,000, Elias Oberfield $15,000, Sanderson $7,000, Hall & Sweeney, Howard $5,000, Hartford $5,000, Jefferson Hall $2,000. Many of the above gentlemen had to have rendered the most valuable assistance when surrounded by them; and although many poor families and individuals lose all their furniture, and are reduced to a state of destitution that surrounds them in the deepest gloom, we are relieved, the aggregate loss to the citizens of Bridgeport will, it is believed, be light, owing to the insurance Companies. The following companies omitted in our last: Office of Phoenix, Edwards, Fell Market; J. L. Palmer, Sailor Boarding House; A. A. Mills, Temperance Hotel; George A. Forbes, Clothing store; John W. Whiting, Grocery; Barnum's Hotel, &c.

Beardly Counting House Calendar.—We received this neat and useful article, on Saturday, in the form of a calendar for 1850, an address-book, for use or of any number of fine large sheets of paper. The latter no doubt it will be found in the counting room of every business man, after the first day of January.

The opening of Lectures before the Apprentices' Library Association will be resumed This Evening, by a lecture from Dr. T. J. Mackie, at Concert Hall. It will known to the citizens of St. Louis that Dr. Mackie ordained Lectures, and we doubt not that all who are interested in it will attend.

Coincidence Indeed.—Wm. D. Coincidence, of Berlin, has recently received a letter, sometimes before, enclosing one hundred dollars, which the unconscious writer says is owing to the executors of Mr. C.'s father, sixteen years ago. The letter is postmarked at the city of Washington.

Death of Commodore Elliott.—The Philadelphia papers announce the death of Commodore Jesse D. Elliott, of the United States Navy, who died at his residence in that city, on the 31st inst., in the sixty-third year of his age. He had been afflicted with a dropsical affection for a few months previous to his decease.

Rufus H. Gilbert has been elected, by Congress from the Nashville (Tenn.) District, successor of Gen. Jackson, who resigned his seat, Lovelace. Mr. King was able men, and a sound Whig.

Ferguson, of Essex Billy Smith,* sometimes more elegantly termed "Superlative Billy Smith," was, since Wilson Smith—has been elected by the Legislature Governor of Virginia. The House rejoices which quarrels has some view was by the testimony of his "noble eloquence" and a real confusion, a few years since.

One of the prettiest compositions in the subject of Messrs. Grant & Lee, successors Express, over Rochester, New York, a number and words has been issued as Philadelphia.

Exports.—The report of various goods taken from the port of New York during the month of June and ended. Total for the last month are $2,000,000 against 4,000 same time last year. The foreign shipments have increased $1,000,000 and the domestic decreased 750,000. The largest exports on November 1, to Philadelphia 3,200 bales, Baltimore 1,500, New York 1,250, Mobile 950, Port Gibson 650, Charleston 350, and New Orleans 400. The exports of cot on November were 1,500 bales, for six months 1,000 bales.

Sugar House and Sugar Items.—The sugar house and steam cane has been burned to the ground on the plantation of Messrs. Hunter & Ogden, Cote Blanche Island, in the parish of St. Mary, Louisiana, were destroyed by fire on the night of the 25th ult. Partly insured.

A Washington correspondent of the N. York Commercial, says that a proposition will soon be made in Congress to erect a monument to the memory of Washington in Mt. Street, and thence across the Potomac to the Virginia shore, and to be called the Pacific Bridge.

Deaths from Freezing.—Three were three deaths in the vicinity of Cumberland, Maryland, on the night of the 24th ult., by freezing.

Mr Charles Bonaparte is appointed upon the Committee for the Relief of Poland, from the Fifth Ward, between Ninth and Eleventh streets, in place of Mr. J. P. Davis, resigned.

The New York Herald, of the 24th, says there has been a pro—Secession in the Democratic party of that city. "The general election returns and the leading mission of the night, and the fingerboards walk there who have done all the dirty work, and the latter present a fair face to come out with an expose of the political machinations and intrigues of the Locofocs, and to get to go on their own hook, either of party name. That expose will be an interesting night in the affair, and will be a very interesting chapter in the mystery of Locofocism."

The Dies.—A correspondent in the Louisville Journal, of Saturday last, says: "The coal bed, which lies here but average, the thickness of which, after proceeding eighteen miles up-the river, is not visible, is ascertained to be about

Sorrow Matters.—A very interesting, if not pleasant, case is now before the Supreme Court of this State, on appeal from the Circuit Court of Jefferson county, involving the question whether a man can be compelled to pay for a negro who has run away before the sale of the negro to the purchaser. The facts are these: Some time last winter a negro man belonging to Mr. Hall, of Jefferson county, ran away, and was not heard of by his master for some time. Subsequently, however, he was found in the possession of Mr. Sorrow, who had purchased him at a public sale, and refused to give him up to his master. Hall brought suit against Sorrow for the value of the negro, and recovered a judgment in the Circuit Court. Sorrow appealed to the Supreme Court, and the case was argued by Mr. Bay for the appellant, and Mr. Bowman for the appellee. The Court reversed the judgment of the Circuit Court, and decided that the purchaser of a runaway negro, at a public sale, is not liable for the value of the negro to the owner, if the negro is afterwards recovered by the owner. The Court held that the purchaser of a runaway negro, at a public sale, is not liable for the value of the negro to the owner, if the negro is afterwards recovered by the owner.
